CELEBRATING OUR RIGHTS RESPECTING SCHOOLS SILVER STATUS

Our Rights Respecting Schools Ambassadors were proud to hang up our special banner to celebrate achieving Rights Respecting Schools Silver Status. We had staff from the steering group, a staff governor and a parent who have all supported the children and school throughout the year to achieve silver status. This is a fantastic achievement and recognises our school's commitment to promote children's rights, respect, equality and kindness. Our ambassadors have played an important role in helping to make our school a place where every child feels valued, listened to and respected. We are incredibly proud of this milestone and look forward to continuing our journey towards gold and making children's rights part of everything that we do.

Quotes from the school Ambassadors

Why are children's rights important?

"I think children's rights are important as if children didn't have rights no one in this world would be here. People would disrespect others and the world would end up as a mess."

"They are important because everyone needs rights. If someone does something then the rights will protect them."

How do you feel about us achieving silver status as a school?

"I feel really happy because it means that we are one of the schools that respects these rights and it's not nice to be in a school that doesn't respect the rights."

"I feel proud of us and I feel happy for my school."
